

National Park Service Anniversary

The National Park Service was created 85 years ago today, on August 25, 1916, “to conserve the scenery and the natural and historic objects and the wild life therein and to provide for the enjoyment of the same in such manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations.” To celebrate, park entry is free today.

This is your receipt for reentry to Zion National Park through August 31.

This pass must be in your possession for reentry. The tunnel escort fee for oversized vehicles and camping fees remain in effect.

I'm cute, but don't feed me.

Part of the wonder and beauty of national parks is the wildlife. Please respect them and keep them wild.

Do Not Feed The Animals

Human foods are not healthy for wildlife. Feeding wild animals is illegal and can cause injury or death to the animal. Wild animals, even those that appear tame, are unpredictable. Deer may kick and jab with their antlers and rodents often bite.

Keep A Safe Distance

If an animal moves away from you or changes its behavior, you are too close. Use binoculars and telephoto lenses to enjoy wildlife. Keep your distance; do not approach animals for a closer look or a photograph.
